

WILL FOLLOW INSTRUCTIONS ON SALK SHOTS

Adams County will follow the instruction of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and Dr. Jonas E. Salk in its method of inoculation of the county's 2,450 first and second grade youngsters with the Salk polio vaccine, Dr. C. G. Crist, county medical director said today.

Present plans call for the county's children to receive three "shots" of the vaccine within about five weeks. That was the method used in last year's test and the one recommended by the National Foundation.

Dr. Salk's suggestion, publicized Tuesday, that inoculations by an improved vaccine be on a different schedule, in which the third "shot" is given seven months after the first two, apparently is causing some confusion judging by the number of calls he has received so far, Dr. Crist said.

Question On Dates

According to press reports there are two vaccines—the one which was used in last year's test and an improved vaccine brought about as a result of the work on the vaccine during the year, which does not require the third inoculation to be made so soon after the second.

Which vaccine will be received here is unknown and as a result the inoculations will be given according to the instructions sent here by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Dr. Crist said.

Nationally published reports set April 27 as the opening dates for giving the vaccine. The county had been previously promised the vaccine by April 15, Friday, and present plans call for the vaccinations to begin on that date in two school centers. As of the present moment the schedule calling for inoculations here to begin Friday is in effect. However, if some "hitch" has developed to prevent arrival of the vaccine until a later date, the schedule will be revised accordingly, Dr. Crist said.

NEED FUNDS TO CONDUCT SCOUT WORK IN AREA

The Boy Scouts will conduct a personal solicitation campaign to raise the funds necessary to carry on their program. This decision was reached at a meeting of the Black Walnut District Committee, in the office of the district chairman, Atty. Eugene R. Hartman, Tuesday evening, after Hartman informed the members that a mail solicitation campaign had proved inadequate.

"Our goal is $1,800," he said, in only $664 so far. The incoming flow is now down to a trickle. We must set up a system whereby people involved in the scouting program must try to raise the money."

The committee decided to participate in the Memorial Day parade, May 30. All troops were requested to arrange to march in the parade, in uniform.

The Black Walnut District scouts will participate in the Conewago Nature Course, May 7-8, and scouts were urged to try to attend as units, and "not in twos and threes, as in the past." The committee also decided to try to set up its own "Jack Frost" nature course in the fall.

"Boys Want Scouting"

Dal Ellis, organization and extension chairman for the York-Adams Area Council, led a discussion of the need for greater organizational efforts in the Black Walnut District, to keep the present units going, and to organize new ones. "Boys are crying for scouting all over the country, and we've got to give it to them," he said.

Ellis expressed astonishment when informed that the Black Walnut District had been unable to find a suitable person for either an organization and extension chairman or a finance chairman for this area. "I don't mean to put anybody on the spot," he said, "but an organization man is a necessity. Without an organization, all of your activities are useless."

Organize 2 Troops

When informed that, even without an organization chairman, scout troops in Hampton and Cash-town were being organized, he replied, "That's fine, but just imagine what you could do if you did have an organization man. Just pick out a responsible man and give him the job. It just needs somebody with more backbone than wishbone."

He said that there were 4,940 boys in the York-Adams area engaged in the scouting program.

Scholarship Is Turned Down Here

A four-year scholarship to a Pennsylvania University is being offered George A. Snyder, Littlestown High School senior and son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snyder, 31 Prince St., Littlestown, as runner-up in the annual American Legion Essay contest in this county.

Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver, Gettysburg superintendent of schools who headed the committee that conducted the contest, announced today that George M. Spangler, New Oxford senior who won first place in both the essay contest and in the scholarship exam, had declined the scholarship. He plans to attend Haverford next fall and the scholarship is not usable there.

Snyder is president of the Senior class at Littlestown High, is editor-in-chief of the year book and has played the three major sports there. He is also a member of the school band and the student council.

Marilyn Spangler, Littlestown, placed third in the scholarship exam and Ronald Collins of Gettysburg, was fourth.

Snyder was appointed chairman of the committee on arrangements. Other members are: N. A. Meligakis, David Garfinkle, and Edwin Hirschman.

The club was informed that some of the Exchange Club signs on the highways approaching Gettysburg need painting and repairing, and President Slentz and Jay Briggman volunteered to see that the work is done.

Air Force Sergeant Herbert Pennington, Ground Observer Corps coordinator, showed films of the Korean War and of Civil Defense. Other guests were Master Sergeant Carroll Sumner, also of the U. S. Air Force, and Clifford A. Diehl, of Lancaster.

INSURANCE IS SOROPTIMISTS' TOPIC TUESDAY

Mrs. George F. Eberhart spoke on her work in insurance at the meeting of the Soroptimist Club held at the Y.W.C.A. on Tuesday evening. She discussed phases of insurance coverage and said that at present agents are very busy with claims for damaged television sets due to heavy winds in the past month. She stated "the work of an insurance agent has become very complicated. The scope is wide and there are almost daily changes in rates and coverage. A great deal of time must be spent studying the changes."

She explained that there are many ways to reduce rates on insurance on mercantile buildings and a conscientious agent can go through a building with the owner and suggest ways—such as the installation of fire extinguishers and the display of "no smoking" signs—by which the lowest rates possible can be assured.

Miss Martha Stallsmith, president, presided at the meeting with 21 members present. Mrs. S. A. Burton secured the signature of members to the Crusade for Freedom Scroll and each made a personal contribution for this work. Miss Anna Weaver, Littlestown, gave her quarterly treasurer's report.

Hospital Report

Mrs. Eberhart, Hospitality chairman, reported that flowers had been sent to the Rotary Club on the occasion of its fifteenth anniversary conference. It was a Rotarian who started the first Soroptimist Club, it was noted. The president stated that she had represented the club at the memorial services Sunday in Christ Chapel. She also reported that she and Mrs. Burton had represented the club at the charter dinner of the Kiwanis Club recently. Four members attended the birthday dinner of the York Soroptimist Club and seven were at the first annual dinner of the Retarded Children's Association.

DR. C. DAVILLA CITES OAS GAINS AT LUNCHEON

Dr. Carlos Davilla, secretary general of the Organization of American States, Tuesday afternoon offered his 65-year-old hemispheric organization as a model for an effective world organization.

Speaking at a luncheon in the Plank gymnasium, a feature of the Rotary conference, Dr. Davilla said: "Through the Organization of American States, comprising the 21 nations of this hemisphere, we have been able to forge in the New World a new world of international law, to forge an American spirit that has brought about a new conception of relations between states. It is because of this organization that war has been disappearing from this continent while all the rest of the world has been engaged in more and more frequently recurring wars."

"It was because of this organization and this American spirit that war between Puerto Rico and Nicaragua was averted most recently. That effort was well publicized, but there have been many differences between states that have been reconciled that were not so well publicized. And there is the 90 per cent of the work, the quiet work that makes the publicized events possible, which are rarely mentioned."

"Democratic Organization"

"Ours is a democratic organization. There are countries in our organization 300 times larger than the smallest ones in it, but each has one vote. And no one has a veto, and there are no members who are permanent and some who are temporary, and there are no inner councils. But it has produced continental solidarity. We are producing a hemisphere that is united economically, politically, and militarily from pole to pole. Latin and Anglo-Saxon have been able to join together to work for a common

SAYS ROTARY IS PIONEERING IN SERVING AGED

Rotary District 268 is "pioneering" in serving the aged, Kenneth G. Partridge, of Ontario, Canada, Rotary International director, told the 500 gathered Tuesday evening for the concluding banquet of the annual district conference on the college campus.

Partridge, in a talk appraising the conference, said Tuesday's panel session on "Serving To the Aging," marks a "new direction for Rotary." E. B. Romig, formerly of near Biglerville, now head of the Central Pennsylvania Social Security office at Harrisburg, was chairman for the panel. Other members of the panel included Frank Robbins Jr., Harrisburg, former state secretary of Public Assistance; Samuel Hinkle, manager of the Hershey Chocolate plants; Urie D. Lutz, Carlisle, and Rev. William T. Swaim Jr., executive secretary of the Presbyterian Home of Central Pennsylvania.

Make Last Years Worthwhile

Romig told the group: "We are, as a nation, losing $2,000,000,000 in production each year because of the prevailing retirement age of 65." He said, "One-twelfth of the American people, 14,000,000 of them, are now over 65 and have special problems and difficulties. There are physical problems, economic, maintenance and industrial problems that must be met. There is a tremendous psychological problem caused by the loss of responsibility on the part of these retired. The problem we need to solve now is how to make life worthwhile for its last 15 or 20 years."

Governor George M. Leader declared that Rotary is "one of the greatest community service organizations sustaining our country today" in an address Tuesday evening to 500 Rotarians and Rotary Annals gathered in Eddie Plank Memorial Gymnasium for the banquet which closed the three-day annual conference of Rotary District 268.

"I am delighted to be back in Gettysburg," the governor declared. "For me it has a more personal connotation than that of the town where the Union was saved. It was the college community that introduced me to the prospects of the life of learning. It is — in a very real sense — my intellectual home. And it is here, in this very room, that I wore my first tux and took my future bride to my first formal dance."

Calls College "Home"

"I am proud to be permitted to be a part of this golden anniversary celebration of a service organization that attracts the leaders of communities to the ideals of selfless service to mankind everywhere, ideals rooted in the truly human principles of the brotherhood of man."

"I am happy to be home once more in the college which holds for me so many warm recollections of my undergraduate days, to be greeting again the distinguished faculty whose wisdom tried to inspire me when I was young."

"I must confess at times you might not have been willing to claim responsibility for the results, but here I learned the constant quest for accuracy, acuity, and analysis of facts to secure integrity of judgment."

"I'm a bit embarrassed at my presence here this evening. You see, my father is a Rotarian. My brother, Henry, is a Rotarian, but somehow I never did become a Rotarian. Perhaps I can blame it on the pressing exigencies of poultry and politics, on the urgent, crowded years of completing college, getting married and going to war."

Services "Flourished"

"For fifty years, your four lanes of 'Service Above Self' have flourished among our citizens and have extended to give heart and hope, aid and action to the solution of many crucial problems involving men and women of every race and creed. The Rotarian programs of community service, club service, vocational service and international service all embody an invigorating and constructive philosophy most necessary, most potentially required in this changing world."

"Let me say just another word about that concept of 'Service Above Self,' that generous gift of time and energy and undaunted devotion to 'doing something' for others. Critics of America frequently level the charge of 'commercialism' at our head. They say that we prefer cash on the barrelhead for services rendered, or, at the very least, a loud and conspicuous 'thanks.'"

Volunteer Service

"But it seems to me that nowhere in the world but America is there a greater concentration of voluntary organizations so zealously pledged to ferreting out a problem and trying to solve it. The volume and variety of clubs and lodges and groups and committees, all committed to helping cure an ill or right an evil, is peculiarly an American phenomenon. The fruits of these labors have brought nourishment and sustenance to our culture, to our great institutions of church and school and to our individual human needs."

"To me, these unpaid, unsung, frequently misunderstood Samaritans form the heartbeat of the conscience of America."

"In all your endeavors, too—whether concerned with an immediate community goal, or the ultimate goals of peace and good will for the entire world—in all your Rotary enterprises, you seek first the complete understanding of the elements of a problem and, then, the sympathetic approach to its effective solution."

Lauds Hanson, Tilberg

"Here in this quiet, beautiful, little college town, men once fought and died — and once dreamed. Here, not far from the campus, a wise and wonderful man voiced the prayer for peaceful equality. Here, in the now gentle countryside of Gettysburg, where the only strife is in young, inquiring minds, the truths of religion and the tenets of science give impetus to an expanding view of the world about us."

Governor Leader praised Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college while he was a student here, and Dean Wilbur E. Tilbert and mentioned his "fond memories" of the 1938 debating team and freshman wrestling team.

But "the wholesome serenity of the Gettysburg campus was being shaken by the thunder of the military boot a continent away. Then, as today and for the many to-morrows to come, the better im-

"We have set up our organization as one representing the people, rather than the governments. We find that industrialists throughout the hemisphere, lawyers, doctors, students, business men can be brought together in their groups and they have more in common, despite differences of language and custom, than each individual might have with his neighbor across the street."

Compares With Rotary
He compared the methods of the Organization of American States to "Rotary," with its accent on the ideal of fraternal fellowship to tackle problems of world understanding by trying to bring together the people in their own vocations.

A native of Chile, Dr. Davilla observed, "The United States, truly united over the years, outstripped the disunited South American states. But today there is a reversal. South America will have a population of 600,000,000 by the end of the century. Industrial production in South America has almost doubled in the last ten years. Latin American and Canada have taken a much greater share in the exports of the United States. Today two-thirds of the United States trade is with Latin American and Canada. More than two-thirds of U. S. investments are being made in South America. Of the six largest cities in the continent, four are in Latin America. We still think here of Europe, but our economy is becoming more tightly bound to our own continent. North and South America are growing ever more closely together. We have our differences, but we have much more that we hold in common."

"And we, amusingly, have one thing in common which is observed by few. Everyone knows that 'mama' is king in South America. Everything will be done tomorrow. In 25 years in the United States I have found that we can procrastinate up here also. Only here it is not 'mama,' it is next week, or after the holidays, and it seems we always have holidays. But we do get some things done, both in North and in South America, and we are doing it, more and more every year, together."

Dalton Gives His Version On Blaze

Richard Dalton, Michaux district forester, said today that he provided "Indian fire fighters" and called the Cashtown fire department when a fire occurred Monday on the property of C. W. Epley on Mt. Newman.

Dalton said that, "despite prior warnings," Epley and his employees started a fire that spread on his property. An Epley employee came to the district office, Dalton said, and was provided with the portable tanks and water and Dalton then called the Cashtown Fire Department. Dalton directed the Cashtown firemen to the scene, he said today.

The fire tower in the mountains saw the smoke and district fire equipment was dispatched to the scene. When they arrived the fire was "very definitely under control and there was sufficient manpower there to handle the mopping up operation," Dalton said. As a result, according to Dalton, the district crew merely stood by for a time and did not render assistance. Epley had reported Monday that the forestry workmen "declined to give assistance on the fire on private land and would not let him use their tank of water." Dalton said that because of the extremely dry condition of the woods it was felt best to keep their water tanks full for instant use if needed, rather than use it on a fire already under control.

pulses of individual men were the only forces for prompting the better impulses of governments. Soon to be caught up in the hate and terror of war, soon to be committed to a new fight that freedom might endure, this country knew the importance of cherishing and preserving the altruistic qualities of men of conscience."

Dr. Hanson Speaks

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president emeritus of Gettysburg College, and Golden Anniversary chairman for the Rotary district, summarized the conference in the concluding address of the evening. "This is a world of sleep walkers," Dr. Hanson said. "We waste throat deep in God's blessings and we are blind and deaf. We fail to see or to hear what is about us. We have nothing to fear. We are children of God and God not only gives us great blessings here, but will protect us."

William T. Swaim Jr., Dillsburg, conference chairman, introduced the guests present including Guy Leader, of the York Rotary club, father of the Governor.

Bernard E. Stansfield, Mechanicsburg, was named district governor-nominee at the convention. He is a former postmaster at Mechanicsburg. His automatic election will take place at the Rotary International convention this summer. He will succeed John L. Tivney of Harrisburg.

Luther Ritter, Littlestown, chairman of the registration committee, reported that 794 had registered for the various events during the three-day conference. Dinner music was provided by a string ensemble from the Hanover public schools. Special music was provided by the Hanover Elks Chorus.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter C. Langsam were presented with gifts and praised by Governor Tivney for "the tremendous manner in which Gettysburg College has welcomed and served us here." Kenneth G. Partridge, Ontario, Canada, Rotary International director, who represented the international organization at the conference, said the session is "one of the best that I have ever attended. I have no complaint, except for those who were unable to be here — they missed a great deal."

SAYS ROTARY IS

Rev. Mr. Swaim said: "Old age is a woman's world," observing that "Rotary is noted for its youth service. But all organizations are now vying to provide youth activities. Our football teams are gorged with organizations holding dinners for them. This is good. But we need to do something for the people at the other end of life, who perhaps need our help more than youth."

Rotary clubs in England, he said, "specialize in old people service just as we do in youth service." But some clubs here have begun programs of "service to the aged," Swaim reported. "Catasauqua has been most successful. It arranged with the officials of the youth center to use the center's building during the days, to hold a day center for old people that has worked out well. Myerstown and East Petersburg clubs have held old timers' nights. The service probably most appreciated by old people is one any of us can do as individuals. Take them out for a ride, to see the countryside. Many go years without getting into a car, without seeing again the countryside around their community, without getting out of an area embracing just a few blocks."

TWO CARS DAMAGED

Damage totalling $150 and no one was injured when two cars collided at 6:46 a.m. today two miles south of Abbottstown on the Hanover Rd. State police said Willis G. Mumert, 38, Hanover, a farmer, had pulled out of a private drive to the Hanover-Abbottstown Rd., when a car being driven south by Jackie of the Peace David S. Meckley, 32, Abbottstown, collided with the rear of the Mumert car.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Shank Re-elected County School Head At Meeting Of Directors: Prof. W. Raymond Shank, of Gettysburg, was today re-elected superintendent of the Adams County public schools for a third four-year term.

Leaving his two opponents, Miss Helen Cunningham, Fairfield and Ernest D. Schwartz, Mt. Joy townships, far behind in the balloting, Mr. Shank emerged from the three-cornered contest with 112 of the 156 votes cast.

In addition to re-electing Mr. Shank to the superintendency, the directors increased his salary from $3,000 to $3,500 a year for the next four years and added $500 to the $2,500 salary of J. Floyd Slaybaugh, who will continue as assistant superintendent.

Field Players To Repeat Comedy: The Fairfield Players, who scored a notable success several weeks ago with their presentation of the three-act comedy, "So-phronia's Wedding," will repeat the show in Hammers' Hall Friday evening.

Seventeen women, one man and one young boy comprise the cast. Among those who won unstinted applause for their efforts when the show was first presented were M. Frank Moore as president of the "Uplift Society"; Mrs. Ella Glenn as "the peacemaker"; Miss Florence Musselman as "Sophronia" and Mrs. Blanche Linn as "the telephone girl who leaves the party line only to eat and sleep."

Others in the cast include Miss Daisy Moore, Miss Martha Moore, Mrs. C. P. Polley, Mrs. R. C. Polley, Miss Margaret Seabrook, Miss Beatrice Sanders, Mrs. Edward Hawn, Mrs. Fannie Hartzell, Miss Sara McCullough, Mrs. Earl Hartzell, Mrs. Robert Reinhold, Miss Dorothy Linn, R. C. Polley, Junior Rohrbach and Mrs. Preston Musselman.

Two Couples Get Marriage Licenses: Marriage licenses were issued at the office of W. A. Gieselman, clerk of courts, to George Franklin Trostle, Gardners, and Ann Elizabeth Knoke, Menallen Township, and to Clair Chester Stair, Abbottstown, and Elsie Laughman, Berwick Township.

County Towns Show Growth: Two Adams County towns show increases in population as the first returns of the census are being released by Harry B. Anstine, supervisor of the census in the York district, Abbottstown, which in 1920 had a population of 334 persons, showed a population of 455 residents when census takers canvassed the town last week. This is an increase of 121 persons in ten years and means an increase of approximately 35 per cent. York Springs, the other county town in which the enumerators have completed their work, showed a growth of 31 persons since 1920. Its population then was 287 persons and at present there are 318 persons living within the limits of the town.

Eagles Hotel Renovated: The dining room of the remodeled Eagle Hotel, leased in February to C. J. Hartman, of Johnstown, will be formally opened Sunday. The hotel has been operating on the European plan for several weeks following a complete renovation throughout.

Peace Move Explained By Lady Annesley: The peace program of the YWCA in Adams County, carried out in conjunction with the national policy of the organization, was given considerable impetus at the reception of Lady Clare Annesley, London, England, a representative of the Woman's International League for Peace and Freedom, at the YWCA rooms, Center Square, last night. The rooms were crowded.

"The new patriotism is peace," Lady Annesley declared in an address at the YWCA. "The most progressive nation will be the first to disarm."

ON GIVING ENCOURAGEMENT

The greatest service that any of us can give to another is encouragement. And it costs nothing to do so! In the February issue of the Reader's Digest I read a most interesting article on how an American — Walter Eugene Packard — brought hope and life back to Greece through modern methods of treating the soil and thus feeding a nation. He created the "know how" and the encouragement followed.

At some period, in most lives, there are times when a little encouragement goes a long way. And it's such an easy thing to give encouragement to another. I once read it was the encouragement Hardy gave to Meredith, during a forever giving encouragement, and even bringing much material he really didn't want, or could use, but which gave encouragement to many who later became famous.

Evening of talk, that decided Meredith to devote his life to literature. Scorers owe to the late "Bob" Davis an eternal debt of gratitude for all he did for them. He was forever giving encouragement to many who later became famous.

Sir W. Robertson Nicoll, famous editor of the British Weekly, was forever giving encouragement to writers, especially young ones, beginners showing promise. He went out of his way to do this, thus giving hope to many. If he criticized, he did it kindly and constructively. It was the encouragement Hamlin Garland gave to Stephen Crane, the author of "The Red Badge of Courage," that helped him to put this classic into permanent form.

I believe each one of us is indebted to someone — in fact, to many — for the encouragement we have received, in many forms, over the years. It is interesting to note that in any contest "the under dog" always get applause and encouragement. I believe this is as it should be.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Thursday" Protected, 1945, George Matthew Adams Service.

DETECTIVE STORY

If I wrote detective stories, and I wished to be deceiving. To the mystery: "who done it?" not a clue would I be leaving. Just to fool the bright-eyed reader, if the publisher were willing I wouldn't have the butler be the one "who done the killing."

Since I've been a crime reporter, I would make it my objective to give credit for deduction to a homicide detective. Of the one "who done the murder" I would let him be the captor. And I think I'd let him do it long before the final chapter.

Having written tales of murder, theft and battery and arson, I might even throw suspicion on the gentle village parson. I'd describe the killer's weapon and the bushes where "he's thru'n it."

But, it wouldn't be the servant of a chorus girl "who done it."

I'd try to have my villain one that ought to be arrested. But he wouldn't be a nephew in a last will interested. I'd have only pleasant people who hate murder so they shun it.

And I'd let the town detective take to court the one "who done it."

Favorite Indians And Braves Win Opening Day Games Over Cincinnati Reds And Chicago

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

Could be that the opening day of major league baseball set what may be the pattern this season. Milwaukee and Cleveland were off and winning and the New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees couldn't do a thing about it.

The pre-season popularity polls had Milwaukee's Braves coping the National League flag, with the world champion Giants and Brooks somewhere behind. Cleveland was picked to repeat in the American, again beating out the Yankees.

Milwaukee and Cleveland made hay yesterday while the other three pennant contenders were stopped by rain. The Braves uncovered rookie Chuck Tanner, who swatted a first-pitch home run to get a 4-2 victory going against Cincinnati. And Cleveland, mixing power with its pitching, knocked off the Chicago White Sox, a dark horse threat, 5-1.

Second For Cubs

The Chicago Cubs won their second 1955 decision, beating the St. Louis Cardinals 14-4 in the only other National League game played.

In the American, the Kansas City Athletics broke into their new surroundings with a 6-2 victory over Detroit, and the Boston Red Sox gave the Baltimore Orioles their second setback 7-1.

Tanner, a 25-year-old prospect up from Atlanta, carried on the Braves' rookie-a-spring program. Manager Cholly Grimm, who sprang loose Billy Bruton in '53 and Hank Aaron in '54, tapped Tanner to bat for Warren Spahn with the Braves trailing 2-1 in the eighth. He homered on the first major league pitch pitched to him.

Good Start For Bob

That tied the score, and after Bruton singled, Aaron clipped Gerry Staley's next pitch for a triple and the lead run. Ted Kluszewski had given the Redlegs their 2-1 edge in the top of the eighth, hitting his second homer of the season.

Like Spahn, Cleveland's Bob Lemon got off toward another 20-victory season, handling the White Sox on four singles and a double. The Indians, apparently not as over-confident as general manager Hank Greenberg feared, got to Virgil Trucks for two runs in the first as Vic Werz singled with the bases loaded.

Al Smith and Ralph Kiner homered, although Kiner, whose big bat the Indians picked up from the Cubs last winter, fanned in his first two trips.

50,230 At Cleveland

The game at Cleveland hauled in 50,230 fans—tops for the day as the majors drew 190,951. Milwaukee was second with 43,640.

Kansas City relied on a three-run sixth to beat Ned Garver and the Tigers as a capacity crowd of 32,843, plus former President Truman and Connie Mack, watched. The A's got nine hits, including a single, double and home run by Bill Wilson. Alex Kellner gave up six Detroit hits, one a Red Wilson homer, and Elwell Blackwell protected the decision with two hits in the last three frames.

The Cubs knocked out Brooks Lawrence in a five-run first and went on to total 18 hits off five Cardinals. Dee Fondy drove in five runs with a bases-loaded double in the big first and a full-house single in a six-run second. Hank Sauer had four hits with 26-133 in the stands—largest Chicago opening crowd since 1929. Paul Minner was the winner.

Boston and new manager Pinky Higgins kicked up their heels as Ted Lepcio smacked two home runs in the rout of Baltimore. Frank Sullivan set down the Orioles on five hits; while Boston had 13 against three Baltimore pitchers. The crowd was 38,065.

FISH GROUP TO REVISE PAY OF 320 WORKERS

HARRISBURG (P)—The state Fish Commission today took steps to revise pay scales for its 320 employees in line with proposals by a legislative committee which investigated the state's wildlife resources.

The committee, headed by Harris G. Breth (D-Clearfield) criticized present salary and wage schedules of the commission as inequitable, unsatisfactory and pitiful during recent hearings.

The commission said in an announcement:

In order to effect a reclassification of certain positions under the new setup, the chief fish culturist, chief aquatic biologist and chief engineer have been instructed to prepare and submit a recommended salary and wage scale for employees of their divisions.

"Commission members Louis S. Winner and Wallace Dean were appointed by the president to review the salaries and wages in their respective divisions and submit to the commission their findings and recommendations with suggestions necessary to put its recommendations into effect."

Last month, the House Conservation and Wild Life Committee, which is conducting the investigation, asked the commission to draw up an equitable salary scale for all employees.

Ask $600,000 Budget

Charles A. French, executive director of the commission, produced a new salary schedule which would become effective June 1. Breth called the schedule an improvement but not the complete answer. French said a budget request of $600,000 additional money would include among other things raises for the next two years.

Paul F. Bittenbender, Wilkes-Barre, commission president, and Winner, Lock Haven, vice president, also have testified before the committee.

Behind the inquiry into Fish Commission pay was the 50 cent fishing license increase authorized by the 1953 Legislature with the special intent it should apply to commission pay scales. The committee contended the money wasn't used for that purpose while French maintained salaries were raised as much as possible.

Under the new schedule, fish wardens would receive from $3,132 to $4,260 a year with senior wardens' pay reaching above $5,000.

The commission announcement said that beginning June 1 "all activities will be channeled into several divisions or bureaus" in order "to promote increased efficiency for administering the constantly expanding activities and added responsibilities of the commission."

BOBO OLSON, JOEY MAXIM FIGHT TONIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—The boxing future of both Carl (Bobo) Olson and Joey Maxim is at stake tonight in their scheduled 10-round bout before a near-capacity Cow Palace crowd and a national television audience.

Olson world middleweight champion is not on the block, but the star of Sid Flaherty's stable is anxious to whip Maxim decisively and put himself into a position to challenge Archie Moore for the lightweight title.

The situation is even more crucial for the 33-year-old Maxim. A loss to the smaller Olson, and the former lightweight champion will be shunted to the sidelines as far as any future big money matches are concerned.

"Tiger" In Shape

The word from Jack (Doc) Kearns, Maxim's manager, was that his tiger was in "the best shape of his life this morning."

"We'll have no excuses," said Kearns. "He's ready to go and I think he can win."

The body-punching Olson, sharp as he has ever been, according to veteran observers here, has expressed more preflight confidence than for any previous match. He has made no secret of the fact he wants to meet Moore for the lightweight crown and admits, without much urging, that he would enjoy a crack at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight championship in the near future.

A crowd of 13,000 is expected, with the gross gate almost certain to reach $130,000 and perhaps higher, according to promoter Bennie Ford.

The fight will go on television at 7 p.m., PST over CBS.

FEAR RED TRICK IN RETURN NOW OF CHILDREN TO GREEK HOMES

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

SALONIKA, Greece (P) — "Why did they not send us back our children when we asked for them — six or seven years ago?" the Greek official said. "Why are they so anxious now?"

"Perhaps it is because now many of the children are grown up and ready. Perhaps, from the Communist way of thinking, the time has arrived."

The official was discussing with me the grave problem of Greek repatriates from Communist countries, where anywhere from 35,000 to 50,000 Greeks — the majority young people — have been kept since the civil war. The Communists not only have agreed to repatriate some of them now. They seem anxious to send them in large numbers.

"To do the work of the Communist party in Greece, they would require only a relative few," this official continued. "Most of the repatriated people probably still are loyal Greeks. But surely among the young people now there must be many who have been turned into convinced Communists."

peasant villages in the rugged mountain areas of northern Greece, given special treatment in a big city under ceaseless indoctrination, isolated from all other influences, might well have become convinced in seven years.

The 200 repatriates in Kastoria, near the Albanian border, are housed in squalid surroundings in two abandoned schoolhouses. Unanimously they seem to hate the Communists and all their works. They hotly deny there have been any agitators among them, that any among them ever expressed the wish to go back to the Communist lands. But even these people do not want to work in the villages or on the farm any more. They want to head to the cities.

See Guerrilla Nucleus
These people represent the first trickle, some 3,700 repatriates. Many of them have now been resettled in villages. They are not the people who cause the Greek authorities the greatest concern. The authorities are wondering about those to come—the youngsters grown too mature to understand Communist teaching and isolation. Here in Macedonia, close to the borders of communism, there is concern about the possibility of a future guerrilla nucleus in Greece, usable by the Communists in time of emergency.

FIRST HALF OF YEAR PROMISES NEW SALE MARK

NEW YORK (P)—Business is so good for most companies today that it's surprising some businessmen — and making others ask: "How long can this last?"

Doubts about the second half are widespread. But a number of executives are so pleased with the way the year has started out and picked up momentum that they foresee new sales records.

Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the Ford Motor Co., says his firm is turning out cars in greater volume than ever. But retail demand is outstripping production and dealers' stocks are lower than they should be. Ford is increasing production schedules steadily.

See New High
Jersey Standard Oil officials are predicting their sales volume will top last year's record 5½ billion dollars.

Du Pont's sales and profits are running about 17 per cent ahead of 1954. President Crawford H. Greenewald reports. He sees a good chance for Du Pont's sales this year to top 1953's record.

Metal producers, aided by booming demand and higher prices, are also optimistic. Kennecott Copper's treasurer, E. S. Hann, says a highly satisfactory year is in sight. He looks for the supply of copper to stay tight at least until the third quarter of the year, and he sees good times for the metals industries stretching into 1956 at least.

Food Processors Too
Food processors are sharing the general prosperity. Sunshine Biscuit earnings are better this year than last, President Hanford Main reports.

Steel men almost every week raise their estimates of how good 1955 is going to be for them, and how long their present boom will last. Steel tonnage production is running just a shade under the record set in March 1953, and well above the rate that most steel executives predicted at the start of the year.

The housing boom also continues to astound the experts.

Sprinkle sliced fresh pears with lemon juice and arrange them with alternate layers of sliced oranges in a pretty glass bowl. Sprinkle each layer lightly with sugar. Top with moist shredded coconut. It's a delicious dessert patterned after the famous Southern concoction called Ambrosia.

Judge Can't Order Spectators Out

CLEVELAND (P)—No Ohio judge can order all spectators and reporters from a courtroom during a trial—even at the written request of the defendants, an Appellate Court ruled here yesterday.

"A defendant has no right, constitutionally or otherwise, to a private trial—that is, one hidden from the public view," the court said.

The decision came in a case brought by Cleveland's three daily newspapers — the Plain Dealer, News and Press. They objected to a ruling by Common Pleas Judge Parker Fulton barring spectators from a pandering trial while a witness talked about "turbid details."

Judge Fulton acted after the three defendants signed written waivers of their right to public trial.

CRIPPLED WILL GET TREATMENT

HARRISBURG (P) — The state Health Department today readied 26 orthopedic diagnostic clinics to treat crippled children during May and June.

Dr. Berwyn F. Mattison, secretary of health, said yesterday the department's Crippled Children's Division will examine all crippled children who are in need of attention and are not receiving it.

The clinics will be conducted by an orthopedic surgeon who will recommend care and treatment of patients.

Other personnel in attendance will include a nutritionist, public health nurse, supervisor and staff nurses, shoemaker, appliance maker, physiotherapist and a secretary.

The clinic schedules:
May 3, Warren and Athens; 4, Oil City and Montrose; 5, Clarion and Sunbury; 10, Somerset; 11, Uniontown and Stroudsburg; 12, Washington and Bethlehem; 13, Abington; 18, Coudersport and Shamokin; 19, Emporium and Williamsport; 24, Honesdale and Lock Haven; 26, Ridgway and Wellsboro; 26, Butler and Danville.

June 1, Indiana and Palmerton; 2, Bedford and Pottsville.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

STEVENSON'S FAR EASTERN SPEECH NOTED

By JOHN SCALI
WASHINGTON (P)—A number of foreign diplomats viewed Adlai E. Stevenson's far eastern speech today as giving President Eisenhower more room for diplomatic maneuvering toward a peaceful settlement in the Formosa Strait.

State Department officials, taking their cue from Secretary Dulles, were guarded in their comments. But those willing to talk privately agreed the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee's address would give added impetus to diplomatic talks on the problem.

Meanwhile, it was learned that the State Department has discussed with New Zealand the possibility of a new move within the United Nations.

Stevenson Cautious
The idea, which apparently has now been shelved, would have New Zealand introduce in the U. N. Security Council a resolution to denounce the use of force in the Formosa area.

In diplomatic talks, Britain is reported to have advised against any such move now. The British apparently felt any effort to revive U. N. consideration of the Formosa problem should wait until after next week's 28-nation Afro-Asian conference in Indonesia.

The Formosa situation is expected to play a big role in these talks, with Red China and perhaps India leading attacks against the American policy of support for Nationalist China.

In a nationally broadcast speech Monday night, Stevenson cautioned of the risks of American defense of Quemoy and Matsu without support of U. S. allies.

Some Encouraged
British, French and other foreign diplomats in the capital were reported generally encouraged by Stevenson's formula for avoiding hostilities over the rival Red Chinese and Nationalist claims to the offshore islands.

None would say, however, whether their governments would agree to join the United States in declaring readiness to fight for Formosa, if Quemoy and Matsu were abandoned to the Reds as Stevenson suggested they might be under such conditions.

John C. Shulley and wife, Orrtanna R. 1, sold to J. Albert Shulley and wife, Gettysburg, for $2,500, a property of approximately 3 2/3 acres in Franklin Twp.

plan was whether the Eisenhower administration would be willing to pay the price countries like Britain might demand for such support—giving the U. N. authority to decide the future of Formosa, perhaps through a plebiscite.

AGREES ON NEED FOR PROBE OF REFUGEE RELIEF

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Kilgore (D-W.Va.) said today he agrees there should be an inquiry by Congress into operations of the Refugee Relief Act, as demanded by Edward J. Corsi and promised by Sen. Langer (R-ND).

Langer announced last night that a Judiciary subcommittee on immigration which he heads will "conduct a full and complete" inquiry to see how the program is working. He said he hoped to work out detailed plans at a subcommittee meeting this afternoon.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), meanwhile, asked Secretary of State Dulles to explain security aspects of his ouster of Corsi as a State Department adviser on refugee problems.

Impossible Situation
Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.), however, said in an interview that while the Corsi case might have been "mismanaged," he thinks "there was nothing else Secretary Dulles could do."

"I think the secretary probably realized he was faced with an impossible situation, with the House (Judiciary) committee opposed to Corsi," Aiken said.

Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), chairman of a House Judiciary subcommittee on immigration, has said Corsi once belonged to organizations later put on the attorney general's subversive list. Corsi has disputed this. A Republican, he has held various public offices for 25 years.

Both To Be Called
Kilgore, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said he favors "liberalization" of the act under which Congress authorized special admission into this country of 214,000 refugees by 1956. Corsi has said only 1,000 have come in in the last 16 months.

Kilgore said he thinks there ought to be an investigation of the law's operations.

Langer said he assumes Dulles and Corsi will be called as witnesses before his group.

"Most of all," he said, "the subcommittee will want to know whether this law has worked well, as alleged by Secretary Dulles, or whether it is a failure as stated by Mr. Corsi."

Scientists believe that the first villages were set up in what is now Iraq about 7,000 years ago.

PRISONER ASKS HIS FREEDOM TO BE DEPORTED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Michael Vladika of McAdoo, Schuylkill County, serving a life sentence for murder committed in Carbon County, has asked the state Pardon Board to commute his sentence so that he may be deported to Soviet Russia.

The 43-year-old alien was convicted for the slaying of a Carbon County motorist 23 years ago. In his appeal for commutation on Monday, the tiding convict said:

"I ask that my sentence be commuted because I want to be deported to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republic."

The pardons board will consider the appeal April 20.

Officials at Graterford State Penitentiary, where Vladika is a prisoner, said he is "determined in his decision to return to Russia."

The convict summed up his decision in these answers to questions on the appeal form:

"Will you have employment if released?"

"U. S. S. R."

"What would justify your being given clemency?"

"Deportation."

Vladika came to the United States from his native Archangel, Russia, at an early age. He was convicted of highway robbery in 1928 and paroled in 1930 after serving three years of a one to six year term.

He was later convicted of an attempted bank holdup in White Haven.

"This is the first time I ever heard of a convict choosing a lifetime in Russia to a lifetime in prison with the possibility of some day having the sentence commuted," a prison spokesman said. Vladika's only other written comment was:

"I'm not guilty of intentional murder. While in prison I tried to study and I work at several trades—tailoring, knitting, wood work and wrought iron work."

CHURCHILL IS ON VACATION

CATANIA, Sicily (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill came to Sicily Tuesday to paint and relax in the warm Mediterranean sunshine.

The 80-year-old statesman, who retired as Prime Minister just a week ago, arrived with Lady Churchill by plane from London for a two-week holiday.

Just before his departure from London Airport Sir Winston received a last minute letter from his sovereign.

LIST RULES FOR PRIVATE USE OF ATOM MATERIAL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said Tuesday the regulations under which it will license utilities and other private firms to use nuclear materials for peaceful purposes.

This is one of the key steps designed to pave the way for expanded development and use of the atom in industry, medical treatment and other peaceful pursuits.

The new rules will not be effective until the lapse of 30 days, during which interested persons may submit suggestions and comments.

The AEC said these are the key provisions in the regulations:

Must Be Qualified

1. "The applicant must be a reliable person, qualified through training and experience to use the material safely."

2. "The applicant's equipment and facilities must be adequate to protect health and minimize danger to life or property."

3. "The use to which material is to be put must be authorized by the Atomic Energy Act."

Presumably young Queen Elizabeth II was wishing good speed to Churchill on whom she leaned so heavily in the first years of her reign.

But Churchill himself did not know what she said before he left London. The large envelope from Buckingham Palace was handed him as he chatted in the royal lounge at the airport. He decided not to open it until he was in the air and said he would spend part of the journey composing an answer.

authorized uses include power development, medical therapy and other peacetime purposes.

4. "The licensee must keep records of special nuclear material received, on hand and transferred, but the regulation does not prescribe detailed accounting procedures nor the type of physical protection to be given the material."

Amounts Allocated

5. "Licenses for special nuclear material to be used in reactors will contain provisions allocating the amount . . . estimated to be necessary for operation of the reactor during the period for which it is licensed. Similar long-term allocation may be included in the licenses for other uses if needed by the applicant."

Eden Moves Into No. 10 Downing St.

LONDON (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden moved Tuesday into No. 10 Downing St., the official residence of British prime ministers for 220 years.

He arrived at the drab, brick-fronted house just as his predecessor Sir Winston Churchill left by plane for a two-week holiday in Sicily.

Eden, who became prime minister last Wednesday, stepped jauntily from an official car to the entrance of No. 10 and paused a moment for press photographers. Only three spectators were there to watch his arrival.

Eden spent his first weekend as prime minister at Chequers, his official country residence.

Eden's move into No. 10 Downing St. was the first since Churchill's departure for Sicily.

HORST ASSAILS LEADER'S VETO OF PENSION BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, said Tuesday Gov. George M. Leader is using "thinly veiled promises of higher pay" to win legislative votes for his proposed tax program.

"No other interpretation is possible of the governor's shocking statement that he will 'entertain with pleasure, legislation to improve legislators' pay' once his tax program has been adopted," Horst said in a statement.

Horst maintained that the question of whether the pay of legislators should be increased "should be decided upon its merits rather than be tied to the fate of an unpopular tax that the public does not want."

Cites Veto Message

Horst referred to a statement issued by Leader on Saturday when he vetoed a bill passed by the Legislature to increase pension benefits to lawmakers and to make the retirement funds easier to get.

Both Democratic and Republican legislators had backed the changes which the governor said contained "objectionable features" and raised "serious doubt" of constitutionality.

Leader cited two major reasons for his veto action—finding the money and establishing the constitutionality of the bill.

Horst maintained that the question of whether the pay of legislators should be increased "should be decided upon its merits rather than be tied to the fate of an unpopular tax that the public does not want."

Voted For Raise

"Four years ago when Gov. Leader, as a senator, voted for a bill to increase the salaries of members of the Legislature, he evidently believed that legislators were underpaid," said Horst.

"The complex and difficult fiscal problems confronting our commonwealth can only be solved in a lasting and satisfactory fashion by the governor and the General Assembly working together in a spirit of mutual respect and understanding."

A few moments earlier he received an honorary doctor of laws degree. It was awarded by his old friend and comrade in arms, retired Gen. Mark W. Clark, president of The Citadel.

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—President Eisenhower Tuesday called the graduating class at the Citadel to become "apostles of peace" in the hope of promoting understanding among nations.

In an informal address on the campus of the South Carolina military college, he told an audience of about 10,000 persons:

"Since you must be one of the principal apostles of peace, you must try to understand people. How else can we achieve peace in the world unless there be a magnificent growth of understanding."

tion of whether the pay of legislators should be increased "should be decided upon its merits rather than be tied to the fate of an unpopular tax that the public does not want."

Voted For Raise

"Four years ago when Gov. Leader, as a senator, voted for a bill to increase the salaries of members of the Legislature, he evidently believed that legislators were underpaid," said Horst.

"The complex and difficult fiscal problems confronting our commonwealth can only be solved in a lasting and satisfactory fashion by the governor and the General Assembly working together in a spirit of mutual respect and understanding."

WILSON WANTS WEAPONS' DATA KEPT FROM FOE

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson says "we must stop giving our potential enemies so much information" about new weapons.

This, Wilson explained yesterday, is why he issued a sharp new order setting limits on the giving out of military information and speeches by defense personnel.

In a Pentagon news conference, he stoutly denied that censorship or any attempt at avoiding adverse criticism was intended.

He said he wouldn't "be a party to trying to cover up something that ought to be exposed for the good of the Defense Department."

What then did Wilson's March 27 directive mean when it said information released by the military should "constitute a constructive contribution to the primary mission of the Department of Defense"? At what does the order aim?

Wilson thought that one over and said:

"It is a little hard to define real quickly. Propriety and policy are involved, as well as what might be called the technical side of it."

Here Wilson touched on another issue raised by his order—the refusal to take into consideration the factor of prior publication when deciding whether information should be released. Interpretation of the Wilson order seems to mean that information on a weapon must not be released even though the same information had been published before and presumably was read by the Russians.

Wilson's idea on this point, as expressed at his news conference, was this: It is possible for someone in the Defense Department to put together a number of things that may have been told before in piecemeal fashion.

"But putting them all together in a logical story gives an entirely different piece of information and, depending on who puts it out, puts the stamp of authenticity on it—when before it was maybe just a rumor."

Wilson said, "We are making it just a little too easy to catch up with everything we do."

Nation Tackles Huge Job Of Giving Millions Vaccine Shots

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Doctors and health officials in communities across the nation cheered by success of the Salk vaccine, today turned to the huge task of inoculating millions of children against polio.

Most local inoculation programs were expected to begin within about a week of yesterday's announcement that the vaccine was 90 to 99 per cent effective against paralytic polio.

From city after city came reports that inoculations were scheduled to start Monday or sometime during the following week. A number of cities however, said they did not expect to begin until early May.

The earliest starting date so far came from San Diego, Calif., where authorities hope to begin inoculating by Saturday.

First Shipments Out

The first shipments of vaccine went out to state and local health organizations last night shortly after the federal government formally licensed it for general use. The official approval was given by Secretary of Welfare Ovetta Culp Hobby after Public Health Service scientists evaluated reports on last summer's vaccine field test.

Opinions varied on how long the vast inoculation job would take.

Houston, Tex., planned to start next Tuesday and hoped to get all its 60,000 eligible children inoculated in one day. In other cities health authorities said the project would move as fast as the available doctors could manage. Most estimates indicated that only rarely would more than a week be required to administer each shot in the series.

Millions To Get Shots

There was no nationwide figure on the exact number of children who will receive the protective shots this year but the final count will be in the tens of millions.

Inoculations for nine million children are being provided by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which ordered its supplies long before the tests results were available. This vaccine is allocated to all first and second-graders, considered the age group most vulnerable to the disease.

The foundation's vaccine also will be given to children who took part in last season's test but got only a harmless, ineffective injection. This was done to provide a control factor in analyzing the vaccine's value.

Step Up Production

From additional vaccine supplies, many communities hoped to make sure that children up to the age of 14 would receive shots, with special provisions for those whose families could not afford inoculation by a private doctor.

There were estimates that as many as 45 million might be vaccinated this year.

Manufacturers of the vaccine, which takes three months to make, were reported stepping up production.

Most inoculation plans reported so far were based on the three-shot series used in last year's test. The recommendation that this can be reduced to two shots, followed by a booster seven months later, produced a mixed reaction among local health officials.

Discuss Shot Schedule

Medical committees were called to consider the new shot schedule and its effects on the program. Some communities deferred any announcements about their program until this question was settled.

The nation's biggest inoculation job will be in New York, where 281,883 children are eligible for free shots. Mayor Robert Wagner has said he soon will announce plans for inoculation of children in addition to the first and second-graders covered by the nation's polio foundation's allotments.

A number of private inoculation programs might be developed. The first of these announced in New York was by a union local to provide free shots for all of its members' children under the age of 18. The great majority of parents are giving the necessary consent to have their children inoculated.

FOREST FIRES EXTINGUISHED BY WEEK'S RAIN

HARRISBURG (AP)—General rain over the state early this week eased the condition of woodlands and gave fire wardens a chance to prepare for the next dry spell.

"The rain gave us a nice break by wetting down things a bit but we only have the next dry spell to get ready for," said Horace B. Rowland, chief of the Protection Division of the state Forests and Waters Department.

"The dry season means forest fires because the rain is always scattered and two days after it stops the woods are ready to burn again," he added.

April and early May are considered the "fire season" in Pennsylvania. It lasts until about the middle of May when most vegetation turns green and acts as a deterrent to fire.

Rowland said that the dangerous Easter weekend "was taken in stride mostly," as far as forest fires go.

"We had reports of about 40 fires in all, but spread over 20 districts that's just two to each one and sort of normal," he added.

One of the worst was a fire in Clarion County, near East Brady, that burned about 800 acres. "Easter Sunday was relatively good for a day when so many people were out and around," Rowland said. "But as long as people keep setting fires we'll have to contend with fighting them. The weekend could have been much worse but I believe the public is becoming more conscious to the forest fire problem."

The rain, beginning Monday night, spread over practically every corner of the state by Tuesday morning. The U. S. Weather Bureau reported it totaled up to 3/4 of an inch in the Altoona area with at least a trace in every other reporting station.

Rowland said it was the first fairly general precipitation since late March.

"If people using our woodland would use some more common sense we'd do much better. So many forget that even if you ignore a fire it can go on burning and cause trouble," Rowland advised.
